

A Quilting Weekend in Bristol with justhands-on.tv

Date: Saturday 24 February and Sunday 25 February 2018

Location: Aztec Hotel and Spa , Bristol

Enjoy a fabulous getaway at a residential weekend retreat in Bristol and choose between two of the UK's leading textile tutors who have two very varied weekends planned for you. We have something for everyone no matter what you like to do or your level of expertise

Personalise your weekend with Angela Madden

Angela is an internationally recognised quilter, teacher and author and this weekend she will help you unlock creativity you never knew you had.. On the first day you'll choose one of Angela's 'Your Choice' patterns to work with. These very clever and versatile patterns allow you to make endless design choices easily. Once you have fused the designs into place, the stitching is simple too. In the 'Surprising Silhouettes' workshop (left) the next day you'll learn how to cut out and make your own patterns. Cutting paper is a fun, fast and brilliant way to create unique designs for quilts. We will add a fabric twist to this traditional Japanese idea, enabling you to create the design of your choice.

Enjoy a Scrappy Weekend with Carolyn Forster

Carolyn is also an accomplished quilt maker teacher and author and has two fantastic scrappy quilts planned for you over the weekend so you can delve into your jelly rolls and raid your stash. The 'Woven Rail' quilt (left) is a very modern quilt pattern and Carolyn has designed it so that it's very jelly roll friendly. 'Japanese Stars And Lanterns' quilt creates a simple block that transforms itself into twinkling stars and lanterns, while also using up your scrap strips and strings, or any stash you want. This patchwork can be worked by hand or by machine and is great for beginners too, since there is no accurate seam allowance. needed.
